About this Product Disclosure Statement

This Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) is a summary of significant information and contains a number of references to important information (each of which forms part of the PDS). You should consider that information before making a decision about the product.

This information is current at the date of publication, but may change frequently. You should check the website for current information. A paper copy of the changes is available on request at no extra charge.

This PDS provides general information only and doesn't take into account your personal financial situation or needs. You should obtain financial advice tailored to your personal circumstances.

2 How super works

Super is an important way for you to save for retirement.

Super is an investment for your future and the sooner money starts going into your account, the better off you'll be when you retire. That's because, over the long term, your super grows from investment returns and any money that's added to your account.

There are many ways money can be added (contributed) to your account.

Superannuation Guarantee contributions

Employers pay a compulsory contribution to your super known as the Superannuation Guarantee (SG). Currently, this is an amount equal to 9.5% of your annual salary (subject to salary cap).

There are also other types of contributions that could help you grow your super.

Personal contributions

- › Before-tax – includes salary sacrifice contributions made by you, any personal contributions for which you claim a tax deduction and voluntary contributions made by your employer for which they claim a tax deduction.
- › After-tax – includes any extra additional contributions you make from your take-home pay, for which you don't advise us you wish to claim a tax deduction.

Useful information to know

Tax benefits are provided by the Government to encourage you to save more for retirement and grow your super over time.

You generally can't access your super savings until you're 55 or over, depending on the year you were born. To learn more about accessing your super, rollovers and preservation age, visit australiansuper.com/AccessYourSuper

It's your super, it's your choice

Normally you can tell your employer where you want your super to be paid. But in some cases, it depends on your employment contract. If you don't make a choice or tell your employer where you want your super paid, they'll pay your contributions to their preferred super fund.

Protecting your super

If you have an account balance below $6,000, legislation requires us to transfer your account to the Australian Tax Office (ATO) after 16 months of inactivity. Where possible, the ATO will transfer your account to your active super fund. To find out how to keep your AustralianSuper account active, visit australiansuper.com/pys

Combine your super and transfer your insurance to save

If you've had more than one job in the past, you may have more than one super account and several insurance policies. Having multiple accounts isn't just messier – it could be a lot more expensive. Learn more about combining your super and transferring insurance cover at australiansuper.com/combine

* Depending on your income and personal circumstances, you may be better off contributing before or after tax, or using a combination of both. The Government places limits on the amount that can be contributed to super. To learn more, visit australiansuper.com/InfoTax

4 Risks of super

All investments, including super, have some risk.

How you invest your super will depend on your age, how long you'll invest your super, other investments you may have, and your tolerance for volatility.

Volatility is when the returns on your investment go up or down over time. The level of volatility your super investment could have will depend on the types of assets that your super is invested in. Assets are investments such as shares, property, fixed interest, or cash.

Different types of assets have different levels of potential return and volatility. Generally, higher long-term returns are accompanied by a greater potential for volatility in the short term.

You can choose from a range of investment options, each with a different mix of assets. So, the likely investment return and the level of potential volatility of returns involved are different for each option.

What you need to think about

When considering your super, it's important to understand that:

- › investment returns may go up and down over time and the value of investments will vary, so the value of your super may also go up and down
- › investing too conservatively can be risky because over the long term your investment may not earn a return above the inflation rate
- › returns aren't guaranteed, and you may lose some of your money
- › past returns aren't a reliable indicator of future returns
- › the laws affecting your super may change
- › the amount of your future super savings (including contributions and returns) may not be enough for your retirement.

Risk levels

- › Short-term risk classifies investment options according to their likelihood of negative returns in a given year. This is also known as the Standard Risk Measure.

This contains information about our other investment options including the risk and expected returns over different periods of time.

You should consider the likely investment return, risk, and your investment timeframe when choosing an investment option.

The material relating to our investment options may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

6 Fees and costs

Did you know?

Small differences in both investment performance and fees and costs can have a substantial impact on your long-term returns. For example, total annual fees and costs of 2% of your account balance rather than 1% could reduce your final return by up to 20% over a 30-year period (for example, reduce it from $100,000 to $80,000). You should consider whether features such as superior investment performance or the provision of better member services justify higher fees and costs. You or your employer, as applicable, may be able to negotiate to pay lower fees. Ask the fund or your financial adviser.

To find out more

If you would like to find out more, or see the impact of fees based on your own circumstances, the Australian Securities and Investments Commission (ASIC) website (moneysmart.gov.au) has a superannuation calculator to help you check out different fee options.

Fees and other costs for the Balanced option

The main fees to manage your account are below, based on the Balanced option. You can use these to compare our fees with similar funds.

Type of fee	Amount	How and when paid
Investment fee*	0.50%	Deducted from before-tax investment returns on 30 June each year (earlier if you close your account), before the returns are applied to your account.
Administration fee*	$2.25 plus up to 0.04% pa of your account balance	The $2.25 per week is calculated weekly and deducted monthly from your account. The Fund pays its administration costs from the administration reserve. The Fund's estimated costs are $2.65 per member per week gross of tax. The Fund claims a tax deduction for the administration costs each year which is also paid into the administration reserve. The up to 0.04% pa is deducted daily from investment returns, before returns are applied to your account.
Buy sell spread	Nil
Switching fee	Nil
Advice fees relating to all members investing in a particular MySuper product or investment option	$0-$295	This is the cost for over-the-phone advice. For face-to-face advice, a higher fee applies which may be deducted directly from your account.
Other fees and costs		See Additional explanation of fees and costs at australiansuper.com/RefFees for information.
Indirect cost ratio*	Nil

The Investment fee for our other investment options is different. This fee is calculated looking back as at 30 June each year and is likely to change from year to year, the amount for subsequent financial years will depend on the actual fees and costs incurred in managing investments.

* If your account balance for a product is less than $6,000 at the end of the financial year, the total combined amount of administration fees, investment fees and indirect costs charged to you is capped at 3% of the account balance. Any amount charged in excess of that cap must be refunded.

Example of annual fees and costs

This table gives an example of how the fees and costs for the Balanced option for this superannuation product can affect your superannuation investment over a one year period. You should use this table to compare this superannuation product with other superannuation products.

Example – Balanced option		Balance of $50,000
Investment fees*	0.50%	For every $50,000 you have in the superannuation product you will be charged $250 each year.
PLUS administration fees	$117 pa ($2.25 a week) plus up to 0.04% of your account balance	AND you will be charged $117 in administration fees regardless of your balance plus up to $20 in administration fees will be deducted from investment returns for every $50,000 you have in the superannuation product.
PLUS indirect costs for the superannuation product	Nil	AND indirect costs of $0 each year will be deducted from your investment.
EQUALS cost of product		If your balance was $50,000, then for that year you will be charged fees of $387 for the superannuation product.

Note: Additional fees may apply.

AustralianSuper can change the fees which you may be charged. You'll be given at least 30 days' notice before any increase in fees takes effect. See section 7 of this PDS for information on how super is taxed and section 8 for insurance information and costs.

Adviser service fee

If you receive personal financial advice from an AustralianSuper employed or registered Financial Adviser, you may agree for those advice fees to be deducted from your account[†]. The Statement of Advice provided by your Financial Adviser will state the fees you'll pay.

See how fees affect your super

Use the Superannuation calculator at moneysmart.gov.au

You should read the important information about fees and costs before making a decision. Go to australiansuper.com/RefFees

This contains information about service fees and fees for our other investment options. The material relating to our fees may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

* The investment fee is for the 2019/20 financial year and is likely to change from year to year.

[†] The financial advice you receive will be provided under the Australian Financial Services Licence held by a third party and not by AustralianSuper Pty Ltd (AustralianSuper) and therefore isn't the responsibility of AustralianSuper. With your approval a fee may be charged if a Statement of Advice is provided.

7 How super is taxed

Tax on contributions

The tax paid on super contributions depends on the amount and type of contribution. Tax is deducted after the contribution is received. There are limits on how much you can contribute, and if you exceed these limits you may pay extra tax.

Type	Tax on contributions in 2020/2021
Before-tax contribution	If your income is $250,000 or less, 15% will be applied to contributions up to the before-tax contributions cap of $25,000. If your income (including your before-tax contributions) is over $250,000, all or some of your before-tax contributions will be taxed at 30%. Contributions that exceed the cap will be taxed at your personal rate (less a 15% tax offset), plus an interest charge. You can choose to withdraw up to 85% of excess contributions, which won't then count towards your after-tax limit.
After-tax contribution	No tax on amounts up to the after-tax contributions cap of $100,000 a year (or $300,000 over 3 years if certain conditions are met). You can choose to withdraw any excess contributions plus 85% of its earnings. These earnings will be taxed at your personal rate (less a 15% tax offset). If you don't withdraw the excess contributions, they will be taxed at 47%* in the fund. There may be restrictions on the after-tax contributions you can make if you already have a very large balance in your super account/s.

Tax on investment earnings: Investment earnings are taxed at up to 15%. This tax is deducted from the crediting rate that applies to your super, before the earnings are credited to your account.

Tax on withdrawals: Your super is made up of two components: taxable and tax-free. There's no tax payable on the tax-free component. Lump sum withdrawals are generally tax-free if you're aged 60 or over.

Tax on the taxable component[†] if you're under 60

2020/2021 – If you're between your preservation age and 59, the first $215,000 is tax-free and the balance is taxed at 17%*.

If you're younger than your preservation age, your lump sum withdrawal will be taxed at 22%*.

Tax on withdrawals is deducted before you receive your payment.

Tax rates, contribution limits and the way excess contributions are treated are subject to change. You should read Tax and super at australiansuper.com/RefSuperTax

You should provide your Tax File Number (TFN). If we don't have your TFN, your before-tax contributions and withdrawals are taxed at a higher rate and we can't accept after-tax contributions from you. You should read the important information about providing your TFN before making a decision.

Go to australiansuper.com/RefTFN The material relating to tax may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

* Includes the Medicare levy.

† If your taxable component includes an untaxed element, additional tax may be applied to that element.

Are you self-employed?

When you work for yourself, no one else will contribute to your retirement savings but you.

Regular contributions to your super will mean more in retirement, and the earlier you start, the better off you could be. And the good news is, you may be able to claim your contributions as a deduction on your income tax return.

How to claim a tax deduction

Most Australians – not just self-employed people – can claim a tax deduction for personal (after-tax) contributions made into super. If aged between 67 and 74, you'll need to satisfy the work test or qualify for the work test exemption to be eligible.

To claim a tax deduction for personal contributions, you need to complete a Notice of intent to claim a tax deduction for personal super contributions form and send it to us.

The amount of after-tax contributions for which you claim a tax deduction will then count towards your before-tax contribution cap and will be concessional tax at 15% within the Fund.

When to claim

Once you make a contribution, you have until the end of the following financial year to claim your deduction. But you need to send us your tax deduction claim form before you submit your tax return to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO).

Example

Jane can submit her claim for a tax deduction up to 30 June 2020, but she must submit her claim form before she lodges her 2019/20 tax return.

You also need to send us your tax deduction claim form before:

- › you leave AustralianSuper
- › you transfer some or all of your benefit to another super fund
- › you transfer some or all of your benefit to a retirement income account, or
- › you split your contributions with your spouse.

Otherwise you may not be able to claim your deduction.

This area of super tax law can be complex. Speaking with a financial adviser may help you get the full benefit of making personal super contributions.

To learn more about how to claim an income tax deduction for personal super contributions, go to australiansuper.com/forms

8 Insurance in your super

Insurance through AustralianSuper is designed to provide financial support if you die, or become ill or injured.

Cover isn't provided automatically when you join Personal Plan, but you can apply for it anytime.

You can choose the types of cover you need:

- › Death cover – can provide a lump sum to your beneficiaries if you die.
- › Total & Permanent Disablement (TPD) cover – can provide a lump sum if you become totally and permanently disabled and can no longer work.
- › Income Protection – can provide monthly payments to help you get by if you become ill or injured (at work or outside of work) and can't work temporarily.

If you have Death or TPD cover you're also covered for terminal illness. A terminal illness payment can help ease some of the financial stress if you're suffering from a terminal medical condition.

Our commitment to you

We're a participant of the Insurance in Superannuation Voluntary Code of Practice. Learn about the Code, our insurance strategy and our premium adjustment arrangements at australiansuper.com/InsuranceCode

Why insurance cover is important

Most people insure their important assets, like their car or home, but their biggest asset – their future income – is often left unprotected.

The right insurance can protect your salary against the unexpected. If you're eligible, it can give you an income or lump sum payment, depending on whether you're temporarily or permanently unable to work. You may need cover if:

- › you or your family rely on your income to pay living expenses such as rent, bills and food
- › you have debts such as a mortgage, student loan, personal loan, credit card or car payments
- › you need to provide for children or anyone else you support financially
- › you have a job where there's a higher chance of injury than normal
- › you participate in sports competitively or as a hobby.

Applying for cover is easy

You can apply for Death, TPD and Income Protection cover anytime. You'll just need to provide detailed health information for the Insurer to consider and have enough money in your super account to cover the cost of your first month of insurance.

Read important information about our insurance before making a decision. Our Insurance in your super guide for your division at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide includes terms and conditions about insurance, including costs, your eligibility for cover, how much you can apply for, what you're covered for, when it starts and stops, limited cover and exclusions, and your insurance options.

Your eligibility to claim for benefits will be determined by the Insurer in line with our insurance policy terms and conditions.

To apply for cover use the app, log into your account and go to My insurance then Change my insurance or complete the Change your insurance form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms

How much cover can I apply for?

You can apply for cover anytime, as long as you have enough money in your account to cover the cost of your first month of insurance. The maximum cover you can apply for is shown in the table below. Your application will be considered by the Insurer and you'll need to provide detailed health information.

Type of cover	Maximum amount of cover available
Death	No maximum
TPD	$3 million
Income Protection	$30,000 a month or 85% of your salary, whichever is lower

Transfer cover from another fund or insurer

You may be able to transfer your current cover from outside of AustralianSuper. For information about what happens when you transfer your cover and to find out how to, see the Insurance in your super guide for your division at australiansuper.com/InsuranceGuide

How much does cover cost?

If you get insurance, the cost of your cover will depend on the amount and type of cover you apply for, your age and your individual work rating. Costs are deducted monthly from your super account. See our Insurance in your super guide for details.

About work ratings

We offer three types of individual work ratings: Standard, Low Risk and Professional. A Standard work rating is automatically given to most new members, regardless of their occupation (including manual or hazardous occupations). A Standard work rating means your cover is the most expensive.

But if you spend at least 80% of your time in an office environment and don't do any manual work, you may be eligible for a Low Risk or Professional rating, which means your cover will cost less.

If you think you're eligible, you can apply to change your work rating by logging into your account or answering the work ratings questions in the Change your insurance form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms when you apply for cover. Your application is subject to approval by the Insurer.

Change your cover anytime

You can apply for, change or cancel insurance cover anytime by using the app, logging into your account or completing the Change your insurance form at australiansuper.com/InsuranceForms

Use our insurance calculator at australiansuper.com/InsuranceCalculator to work out the right level of cover for you, and the cost of it.

The material relating to insurance may change between the time when you read this PDS and the day when you acquire the product.

9 How to open an account

There are two ways you can join us.

Join online

Set up your account the way you want – straight away!

Go to australiansuper.com/join

OR

Send us an application form

Complete the Join AustralianSuper form provided with this PDS.

You can change your mind about us

If you've chosen AustralianSuper (instead of your employer signing you up) and you change your mind, a 14 day 'cooling off' period applies. This period starts from the earlier of:

- > the date we confirm your AustralianSuper account has been established; or
- > five days after the date your account with AustralianSuper was established.

If you would like to cancel your membership during this period, please write to us at GPO Box 1901, Melbourne VIC 3001 or australiansuper.com/email

If you cancel your membership during this period, we'll transfer your account to an approved fund of your choice. Any contributions tax we've paid on your behalf will be deducted beforehand. We'll also deduct any fees due.

Your account will attract earnings (positive or negative) for the period of time your super has been with the fund.

Cancelling your membership during this period means you won't be entitled to any insurance benefits.

Not happy with our service?

To make a complaint about your super account or general information given by AustralianSuper, you can contact us by email, phone or post. Visit australiansuper.com/contact-us for more information.

We respect your privacy

Protecting your personal information is important to us. Our Privacy Policy outlines the type of information we keep about you. It also explains how we – and any organisations we appoint to provide services on our behalf – will use this information.

For more information on privacy, go to australiansuper.com/privacy

Temporary residents permanently leaving

If you're a temporary resident permanently leaving Australia, you have six months to claim your super from us before we have to transfer it to the Australian Taxation Office (ATO). Once we've transferred your super, you'll need to contact the ATO directly to claim it. Go to ato.gov.au

Under Australian Securities and Investments Commission relief, we don't have to give you an exit statement if we transfer your super to the ATO in these circumstances.

10 Changing jobs

When you change jobs there are good reasons to keep your AustralianSuper account.

If you start working for an employer, you will be asked to nominate a super fund – if you don't, your employer will choose a fund for you. But why collect a new super fund every time you change jobs? More funds mean more fees and extra paperwork.

The right fund can make a real difference to how much you save for your future. So don't leave your choice up to someone else – keep your super in one fund that you know won't charge extra fees.

Tell your employer where to contribute

To have your employer contribute to your AustralianSuper account, complete the Pay my super into AustralianSuper form with this guide or at australiansuper.com/ChooseAustralianSuper and email it to your new employer.

Compare your super fund

Compare the costs, services and performance of different super products using the Super AppleCheck*, an independent online report produced by Chant West.
